

There is a treasure waiting for you somewhere around. Try to find it! But you have to convince the people who are keeping it that visiting different places is a fundamental human right and it is good for both sides – travelers and locals.

GOOD LUCK!

The treasure has been hidden at numerous destinations. You have to follow its route and get instructions from the tribe keeping it what to do next. The tribe does not speak your language, so you can communicate and convince them through artistic means. You have to guess which artistic means the tribe understands.

Your first destination is BOOKLandia
