

HR4 – Take a step! Role cards

You are an unemployed single mother.	You are the president of a party-political youth organisation (whose “mother” party is now in power).
You are the daughter of the local bank manager. You study economics at university.	You are the son of a Chinese immigrant who runs a successful fast food business.
You are an Arab Muslim girl living with your parents who are devoutly religious people.	You are the daughter of the American ambassador to the country where you are now living.
You are a soldier in army, doing compulsory military service.	You are a disabled young man who can only move in a wheelchair.
You are a retired worker from a factory that makes shoes.	You are a homeless young man, 27 years old.
You are an unemployed university graduate waiting for the first opportunity to work.	You are the 19-year-old son of a farmer in a remote village in the mountains.
Your parents divorced when you were a baby. Now you are twelve. You live with your mother and her boyfriend. At the weekends you visit your father and his new wife and their two small children.	You are the child of the American ambassador in your country. You go to the international school.
You are very talented at mathematics, physics, languages and, in fact, most things. Your parents are university professors.	You are 16 and your father is in jail. You live with your mother and twin brother.
You immigrated to this country when you were a baby. Now you are ten. Many other immigrants live in your neighbourhood, where your father has a shop.	You have asthma and have to miss a lot of school because you are sick, especially in winter.
You and your parents came to this country to find safety from the war going on in your home country in Africa. You don't know when you can go home again.	Your mother died when you were born. Your father remarried and you live with him and your stepmother and her two daughters. You are all teenagers. Your father is a lawyer.